NORTH STREET BLOCKED BY HUGE CLAY BANK SLIDE FRIDAY NIGHT

Traffic Through That Street Entirely Cut Off by Thousands of Tons of Clay That Slid Out Onto Road Knocking Down Poles and Covering Road and Tracks.

North street, between East Union street and Delaware avenue, was entirely cut off from traffic shortly after 10 o'clock Friday evening when the Dwyer Brothers' clay bank slid out carrying with it thousands of tons of clay, earth and rock completely burying the road from sight for a distance of fully three hundred feet. Work of clearing the street will be started as quickly as possible. The most practical plan for clearing away the slide seems to be the use of steam shovels, and it is understood that the board of public works will make an effort to obtain two shovels, placing one at each end of the slide. The question of whether the city or the owners of the clay bank pay the cost of the removal of the slide from the street has not been settled as yet.

Monday night there was a smaller slide at the bank which came up to the edge of the road. The big slide occurred about 10:25 o'clock Friday night. The road is covered to a depth of from ten to fifteen feet.

As the bank began to slide out it gathered momentum and swept on over the road and into the swamp on the other side leaving in its wake trolley and telephone poles which were snapped off at the base. Electric lights and telephone wires were carried to the ground and in some cases snapped off.

Word was immediately telephoned to police headquarters and Officers Dempsey and Entrott were stationed at either end of the slide with lanterns to protect traffic which was forced to detour.

The one-man trolley car had just gone to Kingston Point and was on its way back when the slide occurred and now lies at the foot of North street and Delaware avenue unable to proceed any further.

All trolley service to Kingston Point is cut off, the trolley cars running to the foot of Auburn street, on the Strand.

There is no question but that it will cost several thousands of dollars to clear away the slide.

Today the board of public works placed detour signs at either end of the slide, and this evening the slide will have to be protected by lanterns and guards to prevent traffic from proceeding in either direction.

Hundreds of people visited the scene of the slide throughout the day. The New York Telephone Company had a gang of men busy clearing up the wreckage as quickly as possible. It is said that telephone service to Kingston Point was not interrupted due to the fact that the wires are carried through a huge cable which was uninjured by the slide.

The electric light wires were cut down and street lights in that vicinity were cut out.

Traffic entering the city from East Kingston will have to proceed up the Delaware avenue hill through Poughkeepsie. Traffic going through the Strand into North street will be able to proceed as far as the East Union street hill turning up that street and going through Lindsay avenue to Delaware avenue.

Just how long it will take to clear the road for traffic is problematical.

LAYMEN PROTEST AGAINST GRANT

Preachers, Too, Object To Listening To One Whose Orthodoxy Is In Question—Anderson Endorsed, Not Enthusiastically.

A resolution protesting against permitting the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant to address a council of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church was adopted at the annual meeting of the Laymen's Association of the New York Methodist Conference held Friday afternoon in the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, eighty-fifth street and Park Avenue.

The resolution contained a preamble describing the session of the New York Preachers' meeting at which Dr. Grant spoke as "a closed meeting," and concluded:

"Resolved that the Laymen's Association adds its protest and wishes to record its emphatic disapproval for allowing any one whose orthodoxy, in accordance with the tenets of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is in question, to occupy any position in its councils." The preachers on Thursday adopted a like resolution but did not mention Dr. Grant by name.

At the conclusion of the Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' speech a resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted putting the Methodist Church solidly back of the prohibition enforcement.

William H. Anderson, who was a delegate to the conference from a Yonkers church, was given the first five minutes of the session. He was not received with a great deal of enthusiasm. At the conclusion of his address resolutions were adopted endorsing both his work and the work of the Anti-Saloon League of New York.

Everett H. Travis of Poughkeepsie was re-elected president. William E. Holloway of New York city, was elected secretary and J. W. Fetter of Highland, was elected treasurer. Vice-presidents elected were: A. N. Scriber of Monticello, Walter B. Truog of Poughkeepsie, Cornelius S. Treadwell of Kingston and Chester A. Smith of Poughkeepsie.

The annual meeting of the Ministers' Wives' Association was held in the chapel of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, and concluded with a luncheon served in the parlors, at which 190 women were present. Mrs. L. B. Wilson, wife of Bishop Wilson, was re-elected honorary president. She was unable to attend, but a letter of greeting was read from her.

Mrs. Christian F. Reiser was elected president. Mrs. Fred W. Stacey was elected secretary, and Mrs. Richard E. Wilson of Yonkers, treasurer. Vice-presidents chosen were Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. G. W. Downs and Mrs. Benjamin M. Deniston.

At noon on Friday Bishop Luther H. Wilson received into the conference seven candidates for the ministry. All the ministers after a devotional service went forward and gave them the right hand of fellowship. The candidates were: Robert C. Lintner, pastor of the South Rondout Methodist Church for the past year and now a member of the Kansas conference; Gordon B. Fear of Croton Lake; Robert L. Mutter, pastor of Cornwallville; James McKiernan of Falls Village, Conn.; Wendell M. Thomas, a student in Drew Theological Seminary; Charles John F. Kell Jr. of Upton, N. Y.; Harry W. Lamond of Carmel, N. Y.

Tomorrow "Conference Sunday" will be observed all day at the Park Avenue Methodist Church. Bishop Wilson will preach in the morning, and ordain men to the ministry in the afternoon. In the evening, Professor J. Newton Davies of Drew Seminary will preach.

"New York Bakery." Abraham Serota and David Rogers, of 39 East Union street, have certified under the assumed name business law to the county clerk, that they are conducting a business in the city of Kingston under the name and style, "New York Bakery."

ROUND THE WORLD IN AUTOMOBILE

Jeffreys and Wife Visit Kingston After Having Made 14,000 Miles of Long Trip.

R. J. Jeffreys, in a Buick touring car, passed through this city on his way around the world this afternoon. The entire trip is to be made by automobile and already 14,000 miles have been covered. Jeffreys, who is a journalist, left his home town in Columbiana, Ohio, on June 1, 1922, with his wife, and sailed for England on July 1. He landed in England and then went to the continent where he visited Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Bavaria, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Roumania, Italy, France. It was the intention of Jeffreys to go from Europe to the east but due to the fighting in the eastern countries this was impossible, so he decided to come back to this country and go to California and then over to China and Japan. He is now on his way to California.

Jeffreys on the way is gathering material for a book and is also writing for newspapers and various other publications. He expects to take three years in making the trip. The car is all equipped for camping and it is possible for the occupants to erect a bed inside and sleep in it if the weather is stormy. In clear weather they have a tent in which they camp.

U. S., NOT WORLD, PLANS FILED FOR ELIMINATION OF DANGEROUS WEST PARK CROSSING

Highway Commission Calls For Carrying Road Over West Shore Tracks at Cost of $105,000 to be Paid by Railroad and State—Only Opposition is From Seeley Estate.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, April 7.—Steps towards the elimination of one of the worst grade crossings on the west side of the Hudson river between Albany and the New Jersey state line, located near West Park station, were taken before the Public Service Commission yesterday under an application by the State Commission of Highways for an order determining how the Old Post Road shall cross the tracks of the West Shore railroad in the town of Esopus, Ulster county.

The State Highway Commission today filed a plan calling for an overhead crossing, thereby doing away with the present crossing at grade. The estimated cost of the improvement is about $105,000 which will be borne by the state and the railroad company.

There will be a further hearing before the commission on April 27 at 2 o'clock, at which time the railroad company will file a plan or submit amendments to the plan proposed by the Highway Commission.

No opposition was manifested toward the overhead crossing although some questions were raised as to the method of construction and the details of the plan. These objections, however, will probably be straightened out and a plan adopted which it is hoped will insure progress of the crossing elimination during the present summer.

Opposition to the overhead structure as proposed by the State Highway Commission was made by an adjoining property owner, the Seeley estate.

Because of the condition of the crossing a flagman is now located there part of the day. It is considered dangerous because of obstructed views.

COP DRIVING STOLEN CAB SHOT

Woman Faints and Others Gasp as Weird Photographs Said to be of Dead Soldiers Are Shown.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, April 7.—American spiritualistic circles were stirred today as never before by photographs of spirits of the dead, flashed upon a screen last night by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle at the conclusion of a lecture on spiritualism.

Gasps of fear and amazement swept through the audience. Women cried out and one of them fainted.

The photographs (two in number) were taken by a woman medium in the vast crowd which gathered about the Genotaph in London on Armistice Day when thousands who had lost relatives in the war gathered to pay their respects to the memory.

A group of mediums had been placed in the crowd and the camera was focussed just above their heads.

The first photograph showed a whitish blur which Sir Arthur explained, was the gathering of psychic forces. The second showed the blur dotted with the delineations of human faces—the faces of dead soldiers of whom loved ones were thinking.

The woman who fainted was Marie Hess, a medium. Sir Arthur said he was not surprised that a person so responsive to psychic forces should be overcome. The photographs will be shown with Sir Arthur's lectures.

WHEN RONDOUT VILLAGE ISSUED ITS OWN MONEY.

Harry S. Fields has loaned to Safford & Scudder an old corporation order of the village of Rondout which was issued on October 1, 1862. The little bill is on display in the window of the jewelry store on Wall street. The bill is a corporation order for 50 cents upon the treasury of the village of Rondout and payable to the bearer at the Bank of Rondout when like orders in amount of one dollar or more were presented. These certificates at that time were quite common and were simply a note of the village for fifty cents. The certificate is signed by S. L. Stebbins, clerk, and H. Anderson, president. Ex-service men who were in France during the World War became very familiar with similar notes which were issued during the war in one and two franc denominations by the various Chambers of Commerce throughout France.

ARRESTED AS N. Y. HOLDUP

Officers Arrest Sam Siegel at Rifton Boarding House for Robbery of Bookkeeper.

Friday night Sheriff Kolts, Deputy Sheriff Jocelyn, Sergeant James Cunningham and State Trooper Alsdorf, accompanied by Fred Wagner and Joseph Miller, the two latter being headquarters' detectives of the New York police department, motored to Rifton, where they arrested about midnight, Sam Siegel and brought him to this city and locked him in the Ulster county jail. Siegel was taken to New York this morning on the 9:05 West Shore train by the two detectives. He is wanted for being one of a party of five holdup men that at the point of revolvers on March 20 robbed John Mintz, a bookkeeper for the Artificial Dye Works, 105 Jewel avenue. They took $1,600. John Mintz had withdrawn from a bank. Three others of the quintet have been captured, and the detectives seem certain that the fifth member of the holdup gang will be caught soon.

The police in New York city in some manner learned that Sam Siegel had been boarding for a few days at the Maple Rest House, Rifton, run by a man named Friedman, and Detective Wagner and Miller were hurried to Kingston and conferred with Sheriff Kolts and, as before stated, they with the sheriff, the deputies and state troopers went to the Maple Rest. They awakened Mr. Friedman about midnight, telling of their mission. He awakened Siegel and when the latter appeared he was handcuffed, told he was under arrest and then brought to the jail. His clothing was searched as was his dress suit case and among other things found was part of a broken revolver. Siegel was well dressed, and of respectable appearance.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Billie Brownie's Walk

Billie Brownie was back once more in Fairyland which as you know includes Brownie land, too.

Everyone wanted to hear of the walk he had taken, for he had been on a long one. He had worn an invisible suit, so he had not been seen, though he had seen everything there was to see.

Of course, some of the little bird people had seen him, for Mother Nature had made his robe so that he could turn it about so it would be invisible no longer.

And often out in the country he would wear it this way when he was stopping to chat with the birds.

"Oh, I had a splendid walk," he told everyone in Fairyland. "I enjoyed everything and everyone I saw. It is such fun to me to wander about. I don't have to wait for one enormous sight or view in order to have a good time—almost everything I enjoy."

"First of all I saw a child, and the child was sitting upon a curbstone and he was wearing a fireman's hat and he did look so fine. Well, I can tell you that was a sight worth seeing."

"He was dressed in a white fuzzy suit which looked as though it had been made of lambs' wool."

"I paid a hurried call on Peter Gnome's little friend Lucy. She was playing with a big doll. The doll was so big that she looked like a little girl. She was able to cry and to walk, and she had a pink dimple in her cheek."

"Her curls were real and Lucy dressed her in a pink hood with lavender ribbons, and fixed the hood so that one curl was left out on either side."

"The doll wore a pink dress upon which was embroidered a lavender dog."

"What!" exclaimed the Brownies and the Fairies.

"Yes!" answered Billie Brownie. "That is the truth. The dress the doll wore was just as sweet as it could be. And it was embroidered or decorated with lavender touches, and one of these touches was an embroidered dog—embroidered in lavender silk."

"The dress also had dear little pockets in it. I don't think I've ever seen so lovely a costume for a doll."

"The doll's knees were pink and dimpled and she wore little patent leather shoes. Her socks were of pink, and she wore little gold pins in the back of her dress."

"Lucy took her to call on all the neighbors."

"Then I went to see the little bird who belongs to the little girl named Katharine. You know the little girl's last name is Byrd and they call her bird the Byrd bird. Whenever Katharine comes in the house the bird always answers her when she calls out."

"After that I saw a cat and the cat told me that he was always playing pranks on his master and mistress and would get in their bed and rumple up the blankets and pull down the sheets and settle down, and that it was hard for them to get him out of the way and get the bed to rights later on in the evening. He was always so sleepy then, he explained."

"I saw the dog named Tams who belongs to a children's hospital. The hospital is in a very poor part of the city, and there are other dogs about, poor, rather forlorn looking dogs."

"During the summer when the hospital matron had plenty of water for Tams at all times and gave him cooling showers, Tams was not popular in the neighborhood."

"The other dogs thought that Tams was superior to them and felt that he was better than they were, and they would not play with him then."

"But when winter came along they forgot all this and felt he was one of them again and played with him."

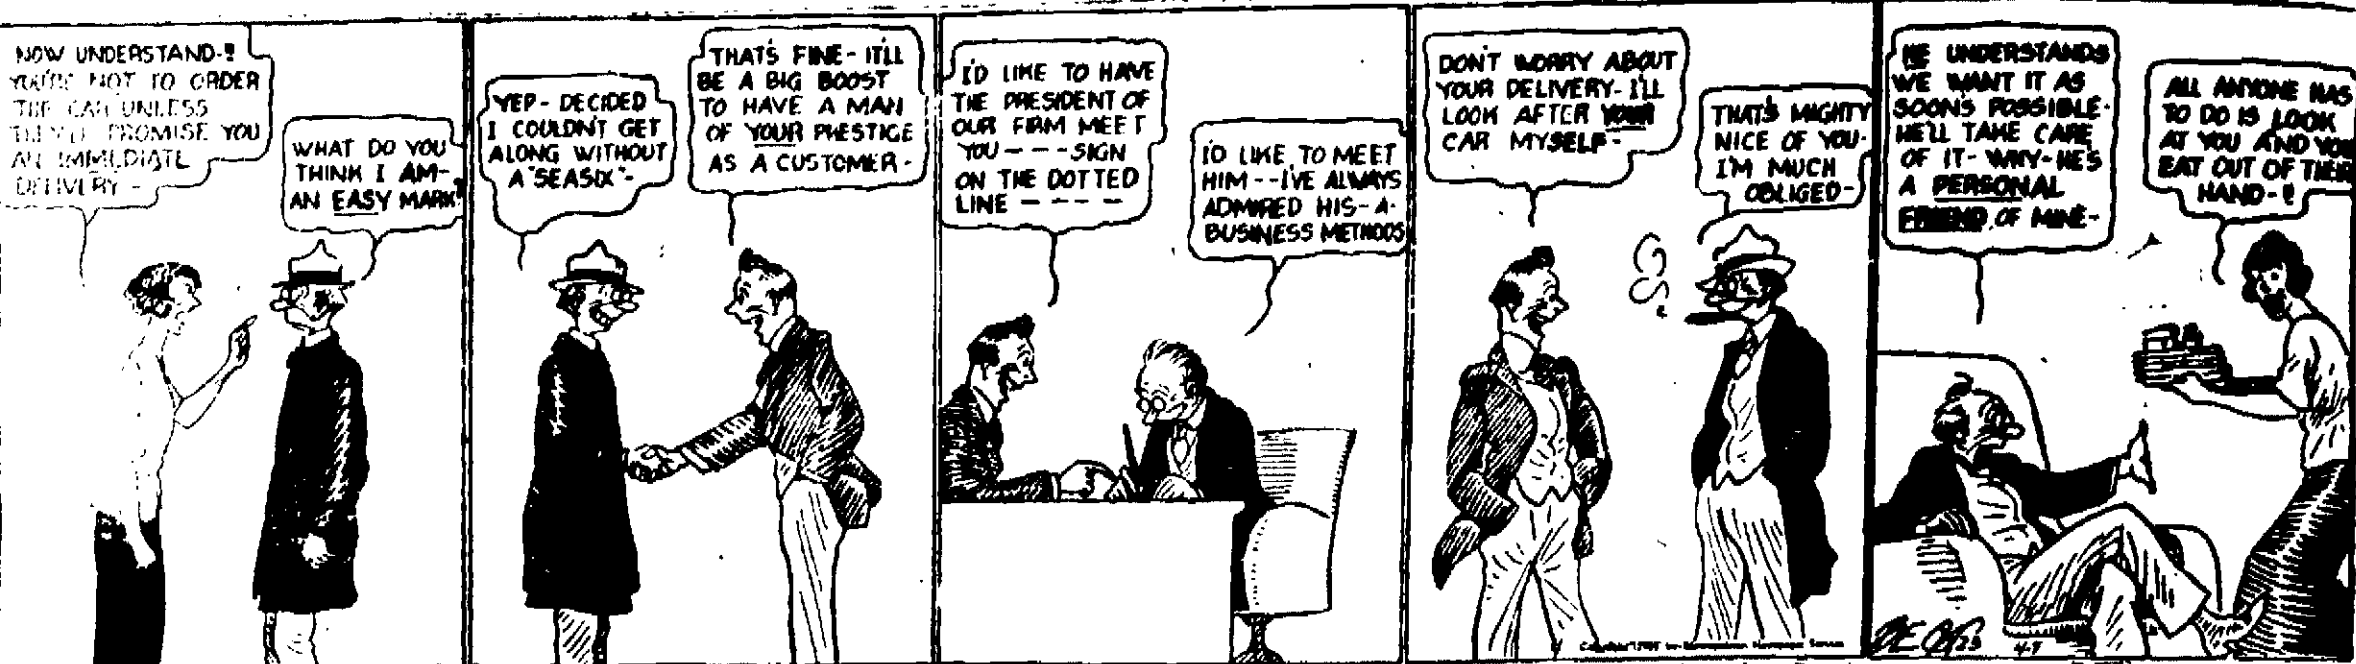

"I saw another cat who said he always tried to sleep everywhere else besides his big basket, not that his basket wasn't comfortable, but because he liked to try all beds every evening."

"First he would get on one sofa for the night and the family would chase him off that, and then on another sofa and then he would roll up in a shawl and try to sleep, but at last he would go back to his basket."

"He had had a grandfather who had never been willing to sleep where he was supposed to sleep. In fact the grandfather had run away for good when he was not given the bed and quite he wanted."

"Oh yes, I had a most interesting walk. There is always so much to see in this fine world!"

MORE ABOUT ONIONS

Onions, shallots, leeks, chive and garlic all belong to the same family and are principally used to add flavor to foods.

Onions are rich in food value, soothing to the nervous system and healing to inflamed mucous membranes. An onion poultice for a chest cold is invaluable. Leeks are used as onions, cooked as vegetables; the shallot is more often used as flavoring for salads and soups, as is the chive.

Those who value the onion will often not tolerate garlic, though it is one of the choicest of flavor vegetables when used with impunity. The dark-eyed brothers of the south eat garlic as we do fresh vegetables and with very little regard for the comfort of a neighbor. Of all odorous vegetables the garlic, eaten uncooked, leaves the most odorous breath. It should be used as it is intended to be used, as a mere suggestion of flavor, and when so used is perfectly delightful. A clove of cut garlic, cut side rubbed inside the salad bowl, will give just the desired flavor to the salad.

What's the Use?

"Bridget," asked the new mistress auspiciously, "did you wash the fish carefully before you baked it?"
"Not at a!" was the answer.
"Why that fish has lived all his life, m'm, in the water."

Ah, what is the cure when life all goes wrong—
When everything's dark for the while?
If things are no longer on grand, sweet song,
The best thing to do is to smile!

No matter at all if your house is afire,
Smile and the fire will go out;
Or if you've just met with an accident dire,
There's nothing to worry about.

Don't worry if sister shows signs of eloping,
Ensnared by some reprobate's guile
You really can't better condition by moping—
Forget all about it and smile!

Smile when the dentist is pulling a tooth,
Smile along life's every mile—
Why all that's demanded of you, here, forsooth
Is just to go around with a smile!

Some automobiles don't cost five dollars a year for repairs, and some are owned by men with better memories.

The song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," was never written by an apartment house landlord.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, April 7.—Easter at All Saints' Church, Rosendale, was happily spent, with large congregations and a large number of communions.

The altar, resplendent with stately Easter lilies and spring flowers, was a pretty sight. The rector, the Rev. James G. Cameron, preached most eloquently on "The Church's Mission Bearing Witness to the Resurrection. Which We Celebrate Today."

John P. Cronan, Jr., read the lessons. Special music was arranged by Mrs. C. V. Hasbrouck, organist. The singing by the choir was well rendered. Mrs. Harry Greenwald, soprano, sang "He Is Risen," by Clare, most acceptably, especially in the solo. "Oh Grave Thy Victim."

Mrs. Joseph Mooney, soprano, at the offertory, sang "Hosanna" by Adams-Grainier. Also incidental solos during the service, with much sweetness and expression.

The Easter opening was very gratifying for aid of the parish. The rector held weekly services during Lent, on the subject of Mission. On Palm Sunday Miss Edith Cronan sang "The Palms," most acceptably. Mrs. Mooney, at the Good Friday service, sang "Calvary," assisting throughout the service of three hours. The rector invites all to do their part in showing their faith every Sunday in serving the church and Christ.

KINGSTON TEAM SUPPLANTS ORIGINAL CELTICS FOR WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Winning Friday Night's Contest From The Much Heralded Shamrock Wearers Frank Morgenweck's Team Takes World's Title—Benny Borgman One of Greatest Players Today.

Kingston's representative basketball team forged further into prominence Friday evening by defeating the Original Celtics, claimants of the World's Championship. Fans from near and far wended their way to the state armory; the doors open wide at seven o'clock admitted the throng, a part of which assembled before six o'clock. About two thousand were in attendance. The Celtics had a large following from New York city and there were fans from Paterson besides from all along the Hudson including a number of sports writers.

The much heralded wearers of the Shamrock met the same forces as they did on their earlier appearance here. But this time the exhibition and result were different. This was due to the advancement of the Morgenweck aggregation in the court game. With a background broader and more general the local quintet proved to the Celtics that they could take their place, defending the greatest title in the game. Kingston hitting on all five at all times put up some sweet game and in their deservedly elevated station today can say they never worked harder than on Friday evening, April 6. Kingston now can boast of a team that are winners of the New York State League pennant, virtually winners of the Metropolitan pennant, under the name of Paterson, and are on an even footing of games with Rochester amateur champions. In mentioning the Kingston team as being the World's Champions, the next thought that should be in mind is that of Manager Frank Morgenweck, the John McGraw of basketball. To Manager Morgenweck's untiring a great portion of the great success can be attributed.

Further proof of the local manager's ability to season and guide players is evidenced in Benny Borgman, one of the greatest forwards of the court game today. Borgman showed his colors again and again during the recent season, coming out by a large majority leading scorer of the state league. In last night's game he likewise was the star, setting the scoring honors of the evening with fourteen points, five pretty fields from long range and four from the correction line. A change in the Celtic line-up brought Johnny Beckman guarding Borgman. The local forward gave Beckman probably the hardest fight of his career, especially if the latter was attempting to keep Benny down to a low score.

C. Husta, another of Morgenweck's proteges in a forward position, proved that time and experience was doing him a world of good and bringing him in front with the rest of the galaxy. Nat Holman, one of the greatest in the court game, played Husta. Carl was unable to get a field basket but he caged four out of six fouls committed by Holman. The Celtic guard was the second best scorer with nine points in his column, a field and seven out of seven shots from the correction line, a remarkable record.

The ever scheming Charlie Powers was the pivot man and Horse Haggerty was pitted against him. Haggerty, much higher up in the world and broader all the way up, got the jump more often than Powers, but on the top of the ball was more in the possession of the local team. Haggerty was scoreless and Powers had two points registered to his credit, a pretty basket from scrimmage. Haggerty, a mountain of a man, was the reason for a number of remarks last night; frequently he would be referred to as a pyramid or King Tut. Never in the history of the armory was there a greater amount of enthusiasm by fans than on this occasion. Nick Harvey and George Artus were in the guard positions for the local team, playing Burke and Barry. Artus held his man scoreless for his evening's work and Barry was only able to sink a total of three on Harvey. Never before on any court did two guards give a better exhibition. Both men in good condition, especially Artus, fresh from the ball

SENIORS HEAD INTERCLASS LIST

Complete Season by Defeating Sophomores 22 to 8—Will Next Meet Faculty Team—Freshman Girls Will Also Play Faculty.

The Senior boys clinched the honors in inter-class basketball at K. H. S., when they defeated the Sophomores in a fast contest. The Sophs had the balance of power at the end of the first half, but the second found them entirely out-played. The good passwork of the Seniors accounted for the win, distributing the points to the various members of the team. The same afternoon the Juniors handed the Freshmen the right to the cellar position. These were the last games of the season in the Inter-Class League. The Seniors, as champions, will meet a team composed of the men on the faculty. At the same time the Freshmen girls, champions in the girls' league, will play a team composed of the ladies of the faculty. The time for this big event will be Tuesday afternoon of next week.

K. H. S. FIVE WON AT MARGARETVILLE

The K. H. S. Varsity took the last game of the season by a big score, trimming the Margaretville team to the tune of 25-8, in a fast and somewhat rough contest played in that town Friday night. The Margaretville fellows showed up well but passwork of the well-drilled Maroon and White squad and their good defense worked havoc for the mountaineers. Schmidt did the most scoring for Kingston with six fouls. Winnie worked hardest for Margaretville and caged two fouls and a foul. Corrigan was disabled in the first few minutes of play by an injury to his leg.

After the game dancing was enjoyed. The locals report their hosts as a bunch of good sports and state that one good time was given them last night. The score:

NEW RECORD FOR K. &amp; M. TEAM

The K. & M. team consented to roll over the game with Fullers in the Mercantile League, and in so doing broke one of their own records, single game score for team 562, six points higher than their former score. That was in their second game when Slawson and Van Dine rolled a good game, while anchor man, Boessneck, ran up a score of 222 for high score honors of the evening. Slawson rolled 205 in the last game, but his teammates fell down and the game went to Fuller by 22 pins. Slawson's steady work gave him high average of 189.

The Lacey Mills won all three from Schilling. Despite this fact, Ackerman, of the Schilling team, had high score of 194. Rice, of the Lacey Mills, took high average, 173.
